

Overseas Training on Plus-Sized Bra Design and Prototyping in United Kingdom

6 – 13 April 2019

For the purpose of helping local lingerie industry to explore new design and prototyping technology of plus-sized bra, Hong Kong Productivity Council (HKPC) is going to organize “Overseas Training on Plus-Sized Bra Design and Prototyping in the United Kingdom”, from 6 – 13 April 2019.

The training investigates technical bra design for the DD+ cup size market. It will explain the different commercial body shapes that plus-sized lingerie has to fit, and the mechanics of the pattern shapes. Also it will explore different types of grading that are suitable for wired bra styles up to GG cup, as well as various fitting methods used on both commercially and for retail.

Training Fee:

HK$30,000*

Supporting Organization members entitled HK$2,000 discount!

*This training has successfully obtained pre-approval of the Reindustrialisation and Technology Training Programme (RTTP) application. The approved training grant for each eligible trainee is up to HK$19,777, the actual amount of training grant to be reimbursed to the companies is subject to the actual training expenditure.

Further information on RTTP is available at the dedicated website at <https://rttp.vtc.edu.hk>.
